Presence

[Verse 1]
I walk along time
Showing what's true
Recording the surroundings
Which may include you

I leave no footprint
Still I shape the room
A glance, a pause
A door left open too soon

[Pre-Chorus]
I don't exist without time
Nor time without me
Subtle in my nature
Constructionally free

[Chorus]
You barely ever notice me
Hardly ever recognize me
Never have you thanked me
Yet you cannot live without me

You barely ever notice me
Hardly ever recognize me
I'm the thread in the morning
You hold me and you leave me

[Verse 2]
I'm in the spilled milk
And the cracked phone screen
In the porch-step waiting
And the space between

I keep your names
In the dust and rain
I'm the thing that passes
While you call it change

[Pre-Chorus]
I don't exist without time
Nor time without me
Subtle in my nature
Constructionally free

[Chorus]
You barely ever notice me
Hardly ever recognize me
Never have you thanked me
Yet you cannot live without me

You barely ever notice me
Hardly ever recognize me
I'm the thread in the morning
You hold me and you leave me

[Bridge]
When the room goes quiet
I'm still moving through
In the bruise on a fruit bowl
In the words left true

I am the before
I am the after too
The shape of your reaching
The space that carries you

[Final Chorus]
You barely ever notice me
Hardly ever recognize me
Never have you thanked me
Yet you cannot live without me

You barely ever notice me
Hardly ever recognize me
I'm the thread in the morning
You hold me and you leave me
